

Criterion	Description	Score
Relevance to the conference theme	The abstract clearly aligns with the theme “At the Frontiers of Psychological Research: Interdisciplinarity, Methods and Perspectives”.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Relevance to the axis	The abstract aligns with the associated axis.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Introduction and theoretical framework	The objectives are clearly driven by the literature or by a well identified scientific issue.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Clarity of the research question	The research question is clearly formulated and comprehensible.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Methodological quality	The methodology is appropriate to the research question (participants, measures, analyses, design).	0 - 0.5 - 1
Results interpretation	The results are clearly presented and interpreted with prudence (adapt for projects with no results yet).	0 - 0.5 - 1
Originality / Innovation	Innovative nature of the research question, method or approach.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Interdisciplinarity	Ability to mobilize multiple disciplines, approaches, or methods.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Potential scientific impact	Interest for the scientific community and future perspectives.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Writing quality	Structure, clarity, spelling, general readability.	0 - 0.5 - 1
Overall score		/10